PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Without a doubt, 2022 has been a year for the history books. The year began with much uncertainty as the pandemic continued to take hold but as we draw the curtains closed on another year, we can reflect on a monumental 12 months for Australian athletics and its athletes.

As such, it is with great pleasure that we present our Handbook of Records and Results for the calendar year.

This year we witnessed the very best of Australian athletics and the results show that we are now entering a golden era for our sport. 2022 began with a glow after the success of our teams at the Tokyo Olympic and Paralympic Games and it was evident early on what a year our athletes would have.

For the first time in three years, we were able to present a full program of championships and one-day meetings after interruptions caused by the pandemic. The performances of our athletes reflected the passion of athletes to return to national competition – all documented within this almanac.

With the support of our Member Associations, Oceania Athletics, Athletics International and our athletes and coaches as well as their collaborative efforts, we were able to run a great series of high-level meets over the summer, culminating in an excellent 99th edition of the Australian Championships at Sydney Olympic Park.

Within the first quarter, we saw high jumper Eleanor Patterson and indoor heptathlete Ash Moloney continue their ascent claiming medals at the World Athletics Indoor Championships. Australian records were broken at that championships with Patterson and sprint hurdler Chris Douglas both eclipsing national marks, setting the tone for one of our most successful years yet.

Just months later, and within the space of two months, we had three teams participate at major championships abroad, with a team of 62 competing at the World Athletics Championships in Oregon, our Birmingham 2022 Commonwealth Games top the medal tally in the UK, and our talented crop of juniors that represented at the World Under 20 Championships in Cali, Colombia.

In Oregon, we celebrated our most successful performance on the world stage in more than a decade, with two gold medals and a bronze medal. Our team made a lasting impression in the USA, with several inspiring performances that saw Australia place sixth out of 198 countries on the medal tally – the highest placing for the country at a World Athletics Championships. It wasn't just the medals that we celebrated, but a suite of achievements which included 11 top-8 finishes, 21 top-16 placings, two national records, nine personal bests and 30 season best performances across 10 days of competition.

The results didn't stop there, with our team in Birmingham competing only days later, winning 10 gold medals, 10 silver medals and four bronze medals to finish on top of the medal tally. This couldn't have been done without the backing of Commonwealth Games Australia. To cap off a brilliant international campaign, our team in Colombia then won two bronze medals and finished with 14 top-8 performances showing the depth in our junior ranks and what is to come as we look ahead to the Victoria 2026 Commonwealth Games and of course, the Brisbane 2032 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The results were not only recognised by us within our sport, but by the wider Australian public with nominations at the AIS Sport Performance Awards in many categories. Jessica Stenson won Female Athlete of the Year after a sensational gold medal win in the Birmingham Commonwealth Games marathon, and Athletics Australia also won the High Performance Program of the Year. Our own World Championships bronze medallist, Commonwealth Games gold medallist and Diamond League winner Nina Kennedy was recognised with a nomination for Emerging Athlete of the Year, and Rhydian Cowley was also given the nod for his work within the community.

I'd like to congratulate every athlete who represented our country this year and recognise the contribution made by all coaches, officials, volunteers and wider support teams to enable our athletes to compete to the best of their ability.

On behalf of the Australian athletics family, I would like to thank the volunteers who continue the tradition of publishing this annual almanac. Athletics Australia Life Governors Peter Hamilton and Brian Roe, as well as our very own statistician Paul Jenès and records officer Ronda Jenkins go to lengths to diligently produce this book and for that we are extremely grateful.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the Australian Sports Commission and Sport Australia for their support. Their acknowledgement of what we do is the reason we are able to achieve on the world stage.

I'd also like to acknowledge the Australian Olympic Committee, Paralympics Australia, Commonwealth Games Australia, World Athletics, World Para Athletics, the Oceania Athletics Association and Athletics International for their continued support in helping us better our sport. Thanks also goes to our own partners including the Australian Institute of Sport, PUMA, Accor, Weet-Bix, Chemist Warehouse as well as our State and Territory Member Associations, Australian Masters Athletics and Little Athletics Australia.

To our athletes, coaches, volunteers and officials, you contribute so much to our sport and are at the centre of what we do. These people are truly the lifeblood of our sport and each of them have contributed in some way to the results and records listed in this book. While we celebrate a big year for our sport with each of them, we look forward to 2023; a year that will be filled with more wonderful achievements as we strive to reach more people with our fantastic sport.
