PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As we stand on the threshold of a new year, it's an opportune time to reflect on the remarkable journey that defined 2023 – a year of unparalleled achievements and triumphs for Australian athletics.

This year has been nothing short of extraordinary, characterized by moments that have etched themselves into the history books.

Throughout the year, Australian achievements came aplenty, signifying the dawn of a new era of Australian athletics. From the get-go, Australian records began to fall like dominos, kicked off by Declan Tingay's mastery of the 5,000m and 10,000m race walks which set the tone for Australia's elite athletes domestically and abroad.

A moment that we will always savour was seeing the Australian mixed relay team claim our first global medal of the year, on home soil at the World Athletics Cross Country Championships in Bathurst, where amongst 4000 cheering fans, a team consisting of Abbey Caldwell, Jessica Hull, Olli Hoare and Stewart McSweyn took bronze.

The Budapest World Athletics Championships proved a pivotal stage for Australia, witnessing an unprecedented record-haul of medals – an outstanding achievement that underscored the relentless dedication of our athletes. Their performances, including Nina Kennedy's soaring achievements of her maiden global gold, spoke volumes about our athletes and their commitment for reaching the pinnacle of success, as did Eleanor Patterson and Nicola Olyslagers together achieving something rare for Australia, placing on the same podium in the Women's High Jump.

The World Para Athletics Championships in Paris echoed a similar sentiment, celebrating two Australian world champions in James Turner and Maria Strong, and heralding a wave of debutants whose performances illuminate a bright future for the country's para athletes.

We also can't forget the success of our athletes on the Diamond League circuit this year, including Matthew Denny becoming Diamond League champion throwing another Australian discus record, while Nicola Olyslagers consistently leapt beyond the 2.00m mark at nearly every competition, culminating in a new Australian high jump record which had the Australian athletics community cheering.

Moreover, the accolades and recognition off the track were also exceptional. It is with immense pride that we accepted Athletics Australia's crowning achievement as the recipient of the World Athletics "Member Federation of the Year Award", and our presence was also felt at the Australian Institute of Sport Performance Awards, securing an astounding six nominations across various categories. Among these, James Turner's outstanding performances at the World Para Athletics Championships saw him clinch the title of Male Para Athlete of the Year.

As we present the Handbook of Records and Results for the year, we take immense pride in heralding the advent of a golden era for our sport. The momentum initiated by our triumphs at the Tokyo Olympic and Paralympic Games has continued and we take these new achievements listed in this book into another Games year.

To every athlete who proudly represented Australia, to coaches, officials, volunteers and support teams – I want to both congratulate you for your achievements and thank you for your commitment. Your relentless pursuit of excellence is inspiring and underpins our success.

I would also like to thank the volunteers who continue the tradition of publishing this almanac. Athletics Australia Life Governors - Peter Hamilton and Brian Roe, our very own National Statistician Paul Jenes and Records Officer Ronda Jenkins who go to enormous effort each year to produce this book and for that we are grateful.

We would also like to express our thanks to the Australian Sports Commission and the AIS, and our partners: the Australian Olympic Committee, Paralympics Australia, Commonwealth Games Australia, World Athletics, World Para Athletics, the Oceania Athletics Association, Athletics International and State and Territory Member Associations for their continued support in helping us better our sport. Thanks also to our commercial partners, PUMA, Chemist Warehouse and Weet-Bix

As we embark upon 2023, let's appreciate the triumphs listed in this book and eagerly anticipate those yet to be achieved. Together, we can continue building Australian athletics to unprecedented heights.
