Message from the President

As I write this letter, I look back on what an extraordinary and tumultuous year 2020 has been and how proud I am of Athletics Australia and the athletics community for the work that has been done in the most challenging time in our history. It certainly has been a year for the record books, just not of the kind we are used to.

Right now, we should have been looking back on the 2020 Tokyo Olympic and Paralympic Games, hopefully celebrating the remarkable achievements of our athletes on the world's biggest stage. Our athletes, coaches, staff and officials set their eyes on Tokyo four years ago, only for COVID-19 to change all of that. I couldn't be prouder of the way our team has adapted and now looks forward to the rescheduled Olympic and Paralympic Games in 2021.

I want to pay particular thanks to all of the Athletics Australia staff for their dedication and flexibility this year. In March, our Melbourne-based team moved to a remote working environment and have adapted and thrived under challenging circumstances. Many have juggled remote working with raising young families, while some have worked under reduced hours, yet all remain committed and enthusiastic as we work through this year together. Special acknowledgement also goes to our Member Associations and their teams, our volunteers and officials for their support, contribution and commitment over the past twelve months.

COVID-19 has also resulted in numerous event cancellations and postponements including the World Athletics Cross Country Championships Bathurst 2021, NAB RunWest 2020, the Blackmores Sydney Running Festival and eight national championships events scheduled for the latter half of 2020. I want to thank these teams for their efforts in dealing with COVID-19. Each has worked tirelessly to prepare for these events, have taken on board all of the challenges of event postponement with gusto and ensured that participants and stakeholders are well informed as to their status and planning going forward. The second edition of NAB RunWest will now take place in March 2021 and we are working with World Athletics to confirm a rescheduled date for the World Athletics Cross Country Championships. The 2020 edition of the Sydney Running Festival is being conducted as a virtual event and we look forward to once again running across the iconic Sydney Harbour Bridge again in 2021.

Despite the challenges of this year there have been some exceptional athletic performances over the last twelve months headlined by results at the 2019 World Athletics Championships in Doha and 2019 World Para Athletics Championships in Dubai.

Kelsey-Lee Barber showed nerves of steel to win Gold in the Women's Javelin at the World Athletics Championships, with the 28-year-old moving from fourth place to first with a clutch final round throw of 66.56m, claiming Australia's first-ever women's javelin World Championship.

Australia finished 7th from 118 countries that competed at the 2019 World Para-Athletics Championships in Dubai. The 8 gold, 6 silver, and 9 bronze medals were a sensational achievement. The team was spurred on by incredible world record performances and gold medals by Jaryd Clifford in the 1500m (T13) final, Corey Anderson in the javelin (F38), and James Turner in the 100m (T36) sprint. Jaryd and James also managed to take out gold in the men's 5000m (T13) 400m (T36) respectively. Shot putter Cam Crombie (F38) went back-to-back gold medals having also secured gold at the 2017 London world championships, while Madison de Rozario and Vanessa Low starred, winning gold in the 800m (T53) final and the long jump (T61-63) respectively. A small group of athletes elected to travel to Europe to compete over the northern hemisphere Summer in 2020 and produced some incredible results, including several new national and area records.

Jessica Hull's phenomenal season included national records over 1500m, 3000m and 5000m on the track. In August, Jessica set the tone for the season with a 5000m national record of 14:43.80 in Monaco, before recording 4:00:52 over 1500m at ISTAF in Berlin, claiming the national and area record. Jessica then closed out the season at the Diamond League meet in Doha, running 8:36:02 over 3000m, eclipsing Benita Willis' record of 8:38:06 from 2003.

Stewart McSweyn broke two national records in just nine days with new marks over 1500m and 3000m. In Rome, Stewart bettered Craig Mottram's long-standing record over 3000m, recording a 6.77 second personal best time of 7:28:02 and breaking the existing national record by 4.17 seconds. At the Diamond League meet in Doha, Stewart stormed to victory over 1500m in a time of 3:30:51.

Off the track, Nicola McDermott has had a dominant season picking up seven podiums from seven performances during her high-jump campaign in Europe, including clearing 1.95m in Rome. McDermott now sits second on the Australian all-time list, only 1cm behind Eleanor Patterson.

We also want to recognise the World Under 20 Championship team, particularly those 2001 born athletes who, due to the postponement of the 2020 edition of the Championships, missed out on the opportunity to compete. We were thrilled to be able to send these athletes their Australian team kit and cannot wait to see what the future holds for you all.

2020 also signified twenty years since the Sydney 2000 Olympics Games, where our team shone bright and Cathy Freeman brought the nation together over the course of 400m. It is one of the most iconic moments in Australian sporting history and we have all enjoyed reliving those very special times in recent weeks.

One Athletics remains a key focus for Athletics Australia, working in collaboration with Little Athletics Australia on our vision to offer a seamless experience and pathway for athletes throughout their career and involvement in our sport. The timeline for OneAthletics project has been adjusted as a result of COVID-19, however, we continue to make many positive advancements and thank all stakeholders for their work and leadership on OneAthletics.

Our sincere thanks also to our loyal commercial partners including Coles, BLK, Rehydr8, AIS, Sport Australia, AOC, Paralympics Australia and Commonwealth Games Australia for their ongoing support. Of note, we are thrilled to welcome Coles on board for an extension of the Athletics Australia partnership and building on our great relationship.

Message from the Chief Executive Officer

In what has been the most remarkable year it is my pleasure to present the CEO annual report for Athletics Australia. There's no hiding from the fact that this has been one of the most challenging years in the history of our sport, and the community in general, but there have also been many highs and I first want to focus on those.

At the 2019 World Athletics Championships in Doha, it was my pleasure to witness Kelsey-Lee Barber become Australia's ninth-ever Athletics World Champion, taking out the Women's Javelin event with a phenomenal final throw. It was an incredibly proud moment for Kelsey, her coach and husband, Mike, and everyone involved in the sport of Athletics in Australia. To see the incredible media coverage of Kelsey's win was very rewarding and we hope to see the next generation of Australian javelin throwers inspired by Kelsey's achievement.

At the 2019 World Para Athletics Championships in Dubai our team shone bright, finishing 7th on the medal tally with 8 gold, 6 silver and 9 bronze medals. An extraordinary result that continues to highlight the strength of our para-athletics program. Despite a disrupted international calendar in 2020 Jessica Hull and Stewart McSweyn spearheaded a strong European season for our Aussie athletes with five new national records.

Commercially we continue to post strong results and we are thrilled to continue our major partnership with Coles into a fourth year. We also look forward to making announcements in the coming months about two new major partners coming on board for 2021 who share our passion and enthusiasm for our sport and programs. To our partners Coles, BLK, R3hydr8, Commonwealth Games Australia, Fox Sports and the University of Melbourne, thank you for your continued support and commitment.

We also continue to receive strong Government support with Athletics Australia securing AIS funding for the Coaching Strategy and Coach Development Framework. This funding is a critical development for our sport. I want to acknowledge and thank Peter Conde and his team at the AIS, not only for the program funding, but also the close working relationship we enjoy.

The 2019 Blackmores Sydney Running Festival was a hallmark year for the event, with more than 40,000 runners and walkers participating in the marathon, half-marathon, bridge run and family walk. It has become one of the most iconic running events in the World with the images of runners on the Sydney Harbour Bridge and finishing at the Sydney Opera House being beamed across the globe.

This year we have enhanced our working relationships with our fellow NSO and Member Association CEO's. In a year where we have had to practice social distancing, it has provided us with an opportunity to establish new ways of communicating and fostering our working relationships, bond in our common goals and share our experiences and expertise for mutual benefit.

Our community programs continue to go from strength to strength, including another record year for Sporting Schools and we remain focused on re-establishing the Athletics Australia Foundation. Along with Little Athletics Australia we have made considerable progress on OneAthletics and continue to work towards a fully integrated, seamless participation experience for athletes of all ages. We continue to see increased engagement and viewership across our digital channels and event livestreams as we focus on innovation and technology to win new fans and provide our athletics community with quality content and digital experiences.

In a tumultuous year, Athletics Australia was able to finish the year in a strong financial position due to a range of decisive actions taken early in relation to COVID-19. Despite the testing financial times, we continue to post robust financial results with a strong balance sheet that will help to provide viability of the sport well into the future.

And now to the reality of 2020. Without doubt the months of March and April were some of the most challenging in my professional career as we navigated the significant and sudden impact of COVID-19. I want to thank our staff at Athletics Australia for their flexibility and commitment as we moved towards a remote working environment and experienced disruption to normal operations and practices. Your ability to take the challenge head-on was admirable and I thank you for all that you have done this year.

In an Olympic and Paralympic year, we were looking forward to our athletes performing in Tokyo but have now reset and refocused on the rescheduled games and will offer our athletes, coaches and team every support we can have them performing at their peak in 2021. Eight national-championship-events, NAB RunWest 2020, the 2020 Blackmores Sydney Running Festival and the World Athletics Cross Country Championships Bathurst 2021 have also been a casualty of COVID-19 and I want to thank those event teams for their professionalism and effort associated with these postponements and re-scheduling.

To our Member Associations - thank you for the fantastic work you do around Australia to deliver an amazing athletics experience for all. To our coaches, officials and volunteers, thank you for your continued support of our sport. We simply couldn't do it without you.

As we head into 2021 with great optimism, I look forward to sharing the journey with you.

Message from the Australian Sports Commission

The start of 2020 has been an extraordinarily tough time for Australians, including all of us committed to sport.

The impact of bushfires and the COVID-19 pandemic have been confronting for communities, where we all know sport plays such an important role.

At the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), comprising Sport Australia and the Australian Institute of Sport (AIS), our energy is focused on supporting our partners through these times as we continue to advocate the importance of sport to our economy, productivity, health, wellbeing and culture.

We believe whole-heartedly that when we get through this challenging period, sport will play a prominent role in lifting the nation's energy and spirits again.

Times such as these can also make us more appreciative of what we do have and of the success we have achieved.

Success in sport is always hard fought. But it's a fight Australian high-performance sport welcomes as it continues to achieve success.

Last year the wonderful Ash Barty won the French Open and became our first female No1 tennis player since her idol, Evonne Goolagong Cawley, in 1976. Javelin-thrower Kelsey Lee-Barber set personal bests throughout the year and took the title at the IAAF World Championships in Doha. Dylan Alcott added three more Grand Slam quad wheelchair singles trophies to the cabinet and Sailing duo Matt Belcher and Will Ryan claimed the men's 470

World Championship. In the pool, our swimmers won seven gold medals at the FINA World Championships, placing Australia fourth on the medal tally.

This year our inspiring women's cricket team won a fifth World T20 title, drawing a record crowd of 86,174 to the MCG. How fitting that this historical moment fell on International Women's Day. These results are a testament to the tenacity and passion of athletes, coaches, sports staff and sporting organisations, which know we have all the skills and abilities to achieve success.

I am proud too of the service our organisation provides to Australian sport each year, on behalf of the Australian Government.

The ASC, through Sport Australia and the AIS, delivers 25,000 grants a year.

The AIS, funds and prepares our Olympic, Paralympic and Commonwealth Games to represent us at the highest level in international competition.

In the past few years, we have enhanced our support to athlete wellbeing and engagement, a move that is essential, especially in the current environment.

Sport Australia invests in sports participation programs, from our national Sporting Schools program for younger children through to the Better Ageing program aimed at Australians aged 65 and over.

So many of these grants fuel aspirations. Our Local Sporting Champions program supports 9,000 children a year to reach for their sporting dreams.

Our Women Leaders in Sport program and the AIS Talent program provide opportunities for women to progress their professional development in all roles across sport.

We continue to work with sports to modernise traditional governance structures in Australian sporting organisations and we continue to encourage environments that are inclusive, diverse, safe and welcoming, making sport the benchmark for a more equitable society.

This was to be the year of the 2020 Olympics and Paralympics in Tokyo. Instead, it has been postponed to 2021, with the Olympic Games to be held from 23 July to 8 August 2021 and the Paralympics from 24 August to 5 September 2021.

We have already witnessed a great deal of positivity from athletes who now need to re-set. I'm confident, as a united sport system, we will do the same.

COMMONWEALTH GAMES AUSTRALIA PROUDLY INVESTING IN OUR ATHLETES

Whilst not a Commonwealth Games year, the year in review has been a busy one for Commonwealth Games Australia as we build on the legacies of the Gold Coast 2018 Commonwealth Games.

Without question though the first half of 2020 have been unprecedented in our times and we recognise the challenges the COVID-19 pandemic has had on sport.

These times, highlighted by the postponement of the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games, have required us all to review and re-write, and then review and re-write again, our plans and activities.

Despite having the benefit of time, the pandemic has impacted the Commonwealth Sport Movement. The 2021 Commonwealth Youth Games were postponed and the calendar of events for 2021/22 dramatically altered. In many sports the Olympics/Paralympics will be followed by a world championships and Commonwealth Games in 2022 and whilst this will deliver an unprecedented opportunity for Australians to cheer for the Green & Gold, it will also provide challenges in what our Birmingham Chef de Mission Petria Thomas has described as a 'bumper year of sport'.

The pandemic has also impacted the Birmingham Games, with the most notable change being the decision not to proceed with the build of new accommodation that was planned for the Games Village. Instead three smaller villages will be used in existing accommodation throughout Birmingham, in addition to the cycling accommodation adjacent to the velodrome at Olympic Park in London. This will result in a different Games experience, but one our Team Executive will creatively overcome.

Despite all this, Commonwealth Games Australia continues to focus on our 'refreshed' Strategic Plan – First Among Equals – as we embrace the future beyond Birmingham 2022 to the 2026 Games. With a strong focus on our dual vision of 'Pursuing Sporting Excellence' and 'Connecting with Communities', the Plan incorporates five strategic priorities: Delivering Team Success; Connecting with Communities; Presenting a Powerful Brand; Leading the Way; and Hosting Great Games.

To help achieve our goal of 'Delivering Team Success' Commonwealth Games Australia has been a significant financial contributor and partner for Athletics Australia, delivering $1,691,000 to the sport and our able bodied and para-athletes in the lead up to the Gold Coast Games.

On the road to Birmingham 2022 our financial support continues and during the 2022 Games cycle, we have earmarked $13m in funding to member sports through programs ranging from youth to the elite and direct athlete support. That is a significant contribution to Australian sport, for which we are proud.

Commonwealth Games Australia invested $448,250 in 2019/20 to support the World University Games team pre-competition at the Oceania Championships and specific javelin and relay projects. These activities would not have occurred without Commonwealth Games Australia investment.

We look forward to building on the successes of the Gold Coast 2018 campaign and continuing our work with Athletics Australia to deliver team success together in Birmingham.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Athletics Australia is committed to high standards of corporate governance.

It operates in line with requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and other Australian legislative obligations and the Australian Accounting Standards. The Board applies the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) governance principles, wherever possible.

Athletics Australia is governed by a Board of Directors that is responsible for setting the strategy and governance for the organisation, that influences how the objectives of the organisation are set and achieved, and monitors the performance of the organisation to ensure it achieves its strategic goals. The organisation follows the ASC's best practice sports governance principles by maintaining a Board with the necessary skills, diversity and numbers to carry out its governance role.

Board Appointments

The Board currently consists of a President (Chair), two Vice Presidents and six other directors, for a total of nine directors. At the Annual General Meeting in October 2019, Peter Bromley retired from his position as director on the Board, we sincerely thank Peter for his contribution. Also, at the Annual General Meeting in October 2019, the appointments of Eugenie Buckley, Jeff Cook and Jane Flemming as directors were ratified by the members in accordance with the Athletics Australia Constitution. Members' guarantee Athletics Australia is a company limited by guarantee. In the event of, and for the purpose of winding up of the Company, the amount capable of being called up from each member and any person or association who ceased to be a member in the year prior to the winding up, is limited to $20 for members subject to the provisions of the Company's constitution.

At 30 June 2020 the collective liability of members was $160 (2019: $160).

Review of operations

The loss for the Group after providing for income tax amounted to $271,522 (30 June 2019: surplus of $219,526).

The Group had revenue and other income of $13.76 million for the year ended 30 June 2020. $9.11 million relates to funding received from Sports Australia which primarily supported high performance and participation programs undertaken during the year.

On 11 March 2020, the World Health Organisation announced a global COVID-19 pandemic giving rise to postponements of a number of events and services under the revenue contracts.

Significant changes in the state of affairs

There were no significant changes in the state of affairs of the Group during the financial year, except for the above mentioned impacts of COVID-19 to the Group.

Matters subsequent to the end of the financial year

On 28 July 2020, the investment property was disposed of and sold for $1,911,000, net of costs to sell.

On 4 August 2020, the Victorian Government made public health and safety directions that required the business to reduce its on-site operations for a period of six weeks due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The RunWest event was originally scheduled to be held on 29 March 2020. Due to COVID-19, the event was initially postponed to 25 October 2020. In September 2020 the Company sought an exemption from NSW Health from the compulsory Public Health (COVID-19 Restrictions on Gathering and Movement) Order (No 4) 2020 which placed operational restrictions on the delivery of the event. NSW Health advised that they were unable to grant an exemption at this time. As a consequence, the Company has re-scheduled the event for 28 March 2021.

The World Athletics Cross Country Championships Bathurst 2021 has been postponed. The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, including the restrictions imposed by the Australian government in response to such pandemic, has prevented obligations under the Event Organisation Agreement with World Athletics being met. World Athletics has unofficially identified a date in February 2022 as their preferred new event date. However, this date requires formal approval by the World Athletics Executive Council that is scheduled to meet at the beginning of December 2020. On 11 September 2020, Athletics Australia confirmed that eight National Championship events that were due to be held in 2020 have been cancelled due to COVID-19 restrictions and to ensure the health and wellbeing of athletes, coaches, volunteers, officials and staff. Athletics Australia has continued to monitor the COVID-19 pandemic and assess all opportunities and risks associated with conducting National Championship events.

No other matter or circumstance has arisen since 30 June 2020 that has significantly affected, or may significantly affect the Group's operations, the results of those operations, or the Group's state of affairs in future financial years.

Likely developments and expected results of operations

Consistent with the One Sport objective, the Group is involved in ongoing discussions of a proposed merger of Athletics Australia with Little Athletics Australia. Further information on this exciting development, including in relation to the proposed timetable and the significant benefits anticipated to accrue for all participants and stakeholders in the sport of athletics in Australia, can be found on the One Athletics website.

No other information on likely developments in the operations of the Group and the expected results of operations have not been included in this report because the Directors believe it would be likely to result in unreasonable prejudice to the Group.

Environmental regulation

The Group is not subject to any significant environmental regulation under Australian Commonwealth or State law.

Indemnity and insurance of officers

The Company has indemnified the Directors and Executives of the Company for costs incurred, in their capacity as a Director or Executive, for which they may be held personally liable, except where there is a lack of good faith.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Note 1. Basis of Preparation

The consolidated financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards - Reduced Disclosure Requirements, Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') and the Corporations Act 2001, as appropriate for not-for-profit oriented entities.

Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for, where applicable, the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and investment properties.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in note 3.

Note 2. Significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

Going concern and impacts of COVID-19

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the continuity of normal operations and the realisation of assets and discharges of liabilities in the ordinary course of business.

For the year ended 30 June 2020, the Group delivered a deficit of $271,522. At 30 June 2020, the Group had a net current asset surplus of $2,350,219 (current assets less current liabilities) and net asset surplus of $2,448,874 (total assets less total liabilities).

Furthermore, on 11 March 2020, the World Health Organisation declared the outbreak of a novel coronavirus (COVID-19) as a pandemic, which continues to spread throughout Australia. The spread of COVID-19 has caused significant volatility in Australia and international markets. There is significant uncertainty around the breadth and duration of business disruptions related to COVID-19, as well as its impact on the Australian and international economies. The Directors cannot reasonably estimate the length or severity of this pandemic but have already seen and expect to continue to see a significant business activity and financial impact.

Despite these facts, the Directors are of the opinion that there are reasonable grounds to believe the Group will be able to continue as a going concern. The Directors continue to monitor the budget and cashflow forecasts for the Group, noting these forecasts have been prepared based on assumptions about certain economic, operating and trading performance achievements contingent on future events and actions yet to occur, which may not necessarily occur. Whilst the Directors believe the assumptions are best estimate assumptions based upon information available, the occurrence and timing of future events are not certain.

Accordingly, the Directors are of the opinion that the Group will be able to continue as a going concern and that it is appropriate to adopt the going concern basis in the preparation of the financial report.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability or classification of recorded asset amounts or classification of liabilities, which might be necessary should the Group not be able to continue as a going concern.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The Group has adopted all of the new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting period.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

The adoption of these Accounting Standards and Interpretations did not have any significant impact on the financial performance or position of the Group.

The following Accounting Standards and Interpretations are most relevant to the Group:

AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Group has adopted AASB 15 from 1 July 2019. The standard provides a single comprehensive model for revenue recognition. The core principle of the standard is that an entity shall recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The standard introduced a new contract-based revenue recognition model with a measurement approach that is based on an allocation of the transaction price. This is described further in the accounting policies below.

Credit risk is presented separately as an expense rather than adjusted against revenue. Contracts with customers are presented in an entity's Statement of Financial Position as a contract liability, a contract asset, or a receivable, depending on the relationship between the entity's performance and the customer's payment. Customer acquisition costs and costs to fulfil a contract can, subject to certain criteria, be capitalised as an asset and amortised over the contract period.

On transition, the Group has adjusted the opening retained earnings by $50,000 decrease as of 1 July 2019 for the change in accounting policy.

AASB 1058 Income for Not-for-Profit Entities

The Group has adopted AASB 1058 from 1 July 2019. The standard replaces AASB 1004 'Contributions' in respect to income recognition requirements for not-for-profit entities.

The timing of income recognition under AASB 1058 is dependent upon whether the transaction gives rise to a liability or other performance obligation at the time of receipt.

Income under the standard is recognised where:

- an asset is received in a transaction, such as by way of grant, bequest or donation;
- there has either been no consideration transferred, or the consideration paid is significantly less than the asset's fair value; and
- where the intention is to principally enable the entity to further its objectives.

For transfers of financial assets to the entity which enable it to acquire or construct a recognisable non-financial asset, the entity must recognise a liability amounting to the excess of the fair value of the transfer received over any related amounts recognised.

Related amounts recognised may relate to:

- contributions by owners;
- AASB 15 revenue or contract liability recognized;

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

- lease liabilities in accordance with AASB 16;
- financial instruments in accordance with AASB 9; or
- provisions in accordance with AASB 137.

The liability is brought to account as income over the period in which the entity satisfies its performance obligation. If the transaction does not enable the entity to acquire or construct a recognisable non-financial asset to be controlled by the entity, then any excess of the initial carrying amount of the recognised asset over the related amounts is recognised as income immediately.

Where the fair value of volunteer services received can be measured, a private sector not-for-profit entity can elect to recognise the value of those services as an asset where asset recognition criteria are met or otherwise recognise the value as an expense.

No amounts are included in the financial statements for pro bono services where the amount cannot be measured reliably.

AASB 16 Leases

The Group has adopted AASB 16 from 1 July 2019. The standard replaces AASB 117 'Leases' and for lessees eliminates the classifications of operating leases and finance leases. Except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets, right-of-use assets and corresponding lease liabilities are recognised in the Statement of Financial Position. Straight-line operating lease expense recognition is replaced with a depreciation charge for the right-of-use assets (included in operating costs) and an interest expense on the recognised lease liabilities (included in finance costs). In the earlier periods of the lease, the expenses associated with the lease under AASB 16 will be higher when compared to lease expenses under AASB 117. However, EBITDA (Earnings Before Interest, Tax, Depreciation and Amortisation) results improve as the operating expense is now replaced by interest expense and depreciation in profit or loss. For classification within the Statement of Cash Flows, the interest portion is disclosed in operating activities and the principal portion of the lease payments are separately disclosed in financing activities. For lessor accounting, the standard does not substantially change how a lessor accounts for leases. All of the Group's leases were considered short-term and therefore there was no material impact on the financial statements.

Parent entity information

In accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, these financial statements present the results of the Group only. Supplementary information about the parent entity is disclosed in note 5.

Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the assets and liabilities of all subsidiaries of Athletics Australia ('Company' or 'parent entity') as at 30 June 2020 and the results of all subsidiaries for the year then ended. Athletics Australia and its subsidiaries together are referred to in these financial statements as the 'Group'.

Subsidiaries are all those entities over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are de-consolidated from the date that control ceases.

Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between entities in the Group are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of the impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

30 June 2020

The acquisition of subsidiaries is accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. A change in ownership interest, without the loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction, where the difference between the consideration transferred and the book value of the share of the non-controlling interest acquired is recognised directly in equity attributable to the parent.

Non-controlling interest in the results and equity of subsidiaries are shown separately in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income, Statement of Financial Position and Statement of Changes in Equity of the Group. Losses incurred by the Group are attributed to the non-controlling interest in full, even if that results in a deficit balance.

Where the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets including goodwill, liabilities and non-controlling interest in the subsidiary together with any cumulative translation differences recognised in equity. The Group recognises the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any investment retained together with any gain or loss in profit or loss.

Revenue recognition

The Group recognises revenue as follows:

Accounting policy applicable from 1 July 2019

Revenue is recognised at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group is expected to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to a customer. For each contract with a customer, the Group: identifies the contract with a customer; identifies the performance obligations in the contract; determines the transaction price which takes into account estimates of variable consideration and the time value of money; allocates the transaction price to the separate performance obligations on the basis of the relative stand-alone selling price of each distinct good or service to be delivered; and recognises revenue when or as each performance obligation is satisfied in a manner that depicts the transfer to the customer of the goods or services promised.

Variable consideration within the transaction price, if any, reflects concessions provided to the customer such as discounts, rebates and refunds, any potential bonuses receivable from the customer and any other contingent events. Such estimates are determined using either the 'expected value' or 'most likely amount' method. The measurement of variable consideration is subject to a constraining principle whereby revenue will only be recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur. The measurement constraint continues until the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved. Amounts received that are subject to the constraining principle are recognised as a refund liability

Income under this standard is recognised where: an asset is received in a transaction, such as by way of grant, bequest or donation; there has either been no consideration transferred, or the consideration paid is significantly less than the asset's fair value; and where the intention is to principally enable the entity to further its objectives.

For transfers of financial assets to the entity which enable it to acquire or construct a recognisable non-financial asset, the entity must recognise a liability amounting to the excess of the fair value of the transfer received over any related amounts recognised. The liability is brought to account as income over the period in which the entity satisfies its performance obligation.

If the transaction does not enable the entity to acquire or construct a recognisable non-financial asset to be controlled by the entity, then any excess of the initial carrying amount of the recognised asset over the related amounts is recognised as income immediately.

30 June 2020

The Group recognises revenue in line with AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058 Income of Not-for-Profit Entities as follows:

Commercial revenue, government funding and funding from other organisations

Customer contracts are reviewed in line with the requirements of AASB 15 and AASB 1058, as discussed above.

For contracts that satisfy the criteria of AASB 15, revenue is recognised over time, when or as each performance obligation is satisfied based on the input or output cost methods.

For contracts that satisfy the criteria of AASB 1058, the consideration provided to acquire an asset, including cash, is initially recognised as a liability and recognised as income in the profit or loss when, or as, the entity satisfies its obligations under the enforceable agreement. If no consideration was received, the difference being the fair value of the asset transferred is recognised as revenue in the period in which the entity took control of the asset.

Financial and investment income

Financial and investment income is recognised as it accrues, taking into account the effective yield on the financial asset.

Investment property revenue is recognised on a straight line basis over a period of the lease term so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the net investment.

Government grants – COVID-19

Government grants represents the JobKeeper and Cash Flow Boost payments received from the Federal Government in response to the ongoing novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Government grants are recognised in the financial statements at their fair values when there is a reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the requirements and that the grant will be received.

Other revenue

Where other revenue has sufficiently specific performance obligations, it is recognised on an accruals basis when the consolidated is entitled to it. Where there are no sufficiently specific performance obligations, the income is recognised upon receipt of the funds.

Accounting policy applicable to comparative period (30 June 2019)

Commercial revenue, government funding and funding from other organisations

Commercial revenue (e.g. sponsorship), government funding and funding from other organisations is recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income when the entity obtains control of the revenue, it is probable that the economic benefits gained from the revenue will flow to the entity and the amount of the revenue can be measured reliably.

When revenue is received whereby the entity incurs an obligation to deliver economic value directly back to the contributor, this is considered a reciprocal transaction and the revenue is recognised in the Statement of Financial Position as a liability until the service has been delivered to the contributor, otherwise the revenue is recognised as income on receipt.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Financial and investment income

Interest is recognised using the effective interest method.

Investment property revenue is recognised on a straight line basis over a period of the lease term so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the net investment

Other revenue

Other income is recognised on an accruals basis when the Group is entitled to it. Donations are recognised as revenue when received.

Interest revenue

Interest revenue is recognised as interest accrues using the effective interest method. This is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset and allocating the interest income over the relevant period using the effective interest rate, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Income tax

The Company is exempt from income tax under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

Nitro Athletics Australia Pty Ltd (a subsidiary) is not exempt from Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. The tax expense recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income comprises of current income tax expense plus deferred tax expense.

Current tax is the amount of income taxes payable (recoverable) in respect of the taxable profit (loss) for the year and is measured at the amount expected to be paid to (recovered from) the taxation authorities, using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Current tax liabilities (assets) are measured at the amounts expected to be paid to (recovered from) the relevant taxation authority.

Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences which are determined by comparing the carrying amounts of tax bases of assets and liabilities to the carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements.

Deferred tax is not provided for the following:

- The initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and at the time of the transaction, affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (tax loss).
- Taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill
- Temporary differences relate to investment in subsidiaries, associates and jointly controlled entities to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and losses can be utilised.

Current and deferred tax is recognised as income or an expense and included in profit or loss for the period except where the tax arises from a transaction which is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity, in which case the tax is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity respectively.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Current and non-current classification

Assets and liabilities are presented in the Statement of Financial Position based on current and non-current classification.

An asset is classified as current when: it is either expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in the Group's normal operating cycle; it is held primarily for the purpose of trading; it is expected to be realised within 12 months after the reporting period; or the asset is cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when: it is either expected to be settled in the Group's normal operating cycle; it is held primarily for the purpose of trading; it is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period; or there is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any allowance for expected credit losses. Trade receivables are generally due for settlement within 30 days.

The Group has applied the simplified approach to measuring expected credit losses, which uses a lifetime expected loss allowance. To measure the expected credit losses, trade receivables have been grouped based on days overdue.

Other receivables are recognised at amortised cost, less any allowance for expected credit losses.

Financial instruments

Financial instruments are recognised initially using trade date accounting, i.e. on the date that the Group becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

On initial recognition, all financial instruments are measured at fair value plus transaction costs (except for instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss where transaction costs are expensed as incurred).

Financial assets at amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost only if both of the following conditions are met: (i) it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and (ii) the contractual terms of the financial asset represent contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest.

Investments

Investments includes non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities where the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold the financial asset to maturity. This category excludes financial assets that are held for an undefined period. Investments are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method adjusted for any principal repayments. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets which are either measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income. The measurement of the loss allowance depends upon the Group's assessment at the end of each reporting period as to whether the financial instrument's credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, based on reasonable and supportable information that is available, without undue cost or effort to obtain.

Where there has not been a significant increase in exposure to credit risk since initial recognition, a 12-month expected credit loss allowance is estimated. This represents a portion of the asset's lifetime expected credit losses that is attributable to a default event that is possible within the next 12 months. Where a financial asset has become credit impaired or where it is determined that credit risk has increased significantly, the loss allowance is based on the asset's lifetime expected credit losses. The amount of expected credit loss recognised is measured on the basis of the probability weighted present value of anticipated cash shortfalls over the life of the instrument discounted at the original effective interest rate.

For financial assets mandatorily measured at fair value through other comprehensive income, the loss allowance is recognised in other comprehensive income with a corresponding expense through profit or loss. In all other cases, the loss allowance reduces the asset's carrying value with a corresponding expense through profit or loss.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis to write off the net cost of each item of property, plant and equipment (excluding land) over their expected useful lives as follows:

Furniture, fixtures and fittings	1-10 years
Office equipment	2-4 years
Computer equipment	3 years
Leasehold improvements	1-2 years
Competition equipment	10 years
High performance equipment	2-10 years

The residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each reporting date.

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful life of the assets, whichever is shorter.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when there is no future economic benefit to the Group. Gains and losses between the carrying amount and the disposal proceeds are taken to profit or loss.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Intangible assets

Software

Software has a finite life and is carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and impairment losses. It has an estimated useful life of between one and three years.

Website

Significant costs associated with the development of the revenue generating aspects of the website, including the capacity of placing orders, are deferred and amortised on a straight-line basis over the period of their expected benefit, being their finite life of 10 years.

Investment property

Investment property is carried at fair value, determined at least biennially by independent valuers. Changes to fair value are recorded in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income as other income/expenses.

Investment properties are derecognised when disposed of or when there is no future economic benefit expected.

Investment property - asset classified as held for sale

Investment property classified as held for sale is measured at the lower of the carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of the financial year and which are unpaid. Due to their short-term nature they are measured at amortised cost and are not discounted. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition.

Contract liabilities

Contract liabilities represent the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer and are recognised when a customer pays consideration, or when the Group recognises a receivable to reflect its unconditional right to consideration (whichever is earlier) before the Group has transferred the goods or services to the customer.

Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits, annual leave and long service leave expected to be settled wholly within 12 months of the reporting date are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Other long-term employee benefits

The liability for annual leave and long service leave not expected to be settled within 12 months of the reporting date are measured at the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date using the projected unit credit method. Consideration is given to expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service. Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the reporting date on national government bonds with terms to maturity and currency that match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Foreign currency translation balances

Foreign currency transactions are recorded at the spot rate on the date of the transaction. At the end of the reporting period, foreign currency monetary items are recorded at the spot rate on the date of transaction.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on translating monetary items at rates different from those at which they were translated on initial recognition or in prior reporting periods are recognised through profit or loss, except where they relate to an item of other comprehensive income or whether they are deferred in equity as qualifying hedges.

Economic dependence

Athletics Australia is dependent on the Sports Australia for a significant component of its revenue used to operate the business. At the date of this report the Directors have no reason to believe the Sports Australia will not continue to support Athletics Australia.

Fair value measurement

When an asset or liability, financial or non-financial, is measured at fair value for recognition or disclosure purposes, the fair value is based on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date; and assumes that the transaction will take place either: in the principal market; or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market.

Fair value is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming they act in their economic best interests. For non-financial assets, the fair value measurement is based on its highest and best use. Valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, are used, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value are classified into three levels, using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. Classifications are reviewed at each reporting date and transfers between levels are determined based on a reassessment of the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

For recurring and non-recurring fair value measurements, external valuers may be used when internal expertise is either not available or when the valuation is deemed to be significant. External valuers are selected based on market knowledge and reputation. Where there is a significant change in fair value of an asset or liability from one period to another, an analysis is undertaken, which includes a verification of the major inputs applied in the latest valuation and a comparison, where applicable, with external sources of data.

Notes to the Financial Statements

30 June 2020

Goods and Services Tax ('GST') and other similar taxes

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the tax authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of the acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the tax authority is included in other receivables or other payables in the Statement of Financial Position.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to the tax authority, are presented as operating cash flows.

Commitments and contingencies are disclosed net of the amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the tax authority.

Note 3. Critical accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements. Management continually evaluates its judgements and estimates in relation to assets, liabilities, contingent liabilities, revenue and expenses. Management bases its judgements, estimates and assumptions on historical experience and on other various factors, including expectations of future events, management believes to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting judgements and estimates will seldom equal the related actual results. The judgements, estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities (refer to the respective notes) within the next financial year are discussed below.

Allowance for expected credit losses

The allowance for expected credit losses assessment requires a degree of estimation and judgement. It is based on the lifetime expected credit loss, grouped based on days overdue, and makes assumptions to allocate an overall expected credit loss rate for each group. These assumptions include recent sales experience and historical collection rates.

Estimation of useful lives of assets

The Group determines the estimated useful lives and related depreciation and amortisation charges for its property, plant and equipment and finite life intangible assets. The useful lives could change significantly as a result of technical innovations or some other event. The depreciation and amortisation charge will increase where the useful lives are less than previously estimated lives, or technically obsolete or non-strategic assets that have been abandoned or sold will be written off or written down.

Employee benefits provision

As discussed in note 2, the liability for employee benefits expected to be settled more than 12 months from the reporting date are recognised and measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows to be made in respect of all employees at the reporting date. In determining the present value of the liability, estimates of attrition rates and pay increases through promotion and inflation have been taken into account.

The basis of the valuation of investment properties is fair value. The investment properties are revalued at least every two years based on independent assessments by a member of the Australian Property Institute having recent experience in the location and category of investment property being valued. Valuations are based on current prices in an active market for similar properties of the same location and condition, subject to similar leases and takes into consideration occupancy rates and returns on investment. As at 30 June 2020, the investment property was classified as an asset held for sale and is measured at fair value less costs to sell. Subsequent to balance date, on 28 July 2020, the investment property was disposed of and sold for $1,911,000, net of costs to sell.

The RunWest event was originally scheduled to be held on 29 March 2020. Due to COVID-19, the event was initially postponed to 25 October 2020. In September 2020 the Company sought an exemption from NSW Health from the compulsory Public Health (COVID-19 Restrictions on Gathering and Movement) Order (No 4) 2020 which placed operational restrictions on the delivery of the event. NSW Health advised that they were unable to grant an exemption at this time. As a consequence, the Company has re-scheduled the event for 28 March 2021.

The World Athletics Cross Country Championships Bathurst 2021 has been postponed. The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, including the restrictions imposed by the Australian government in response to such pandemic, has prevented obligations under the Event Organisation Agreement with World Athletics being met. World Athletics has unofficially identified a date in February 2022 as their preferred new event date. However, this date requires formal approval by the World Athletics Executive Council that is scheduled to meet at the beginning of December 2020.

On 11 September 2020, Athletics Australia confirmed that eight National Championship events that were due to be held in 2020 have been cancelled due to COVID-19 restrictions and to ensure the health and wellbeing of athletes, coaches, volunteers, officials and staff. Athletics Australia has continued to monitor the COVID-19 pandemic and assess all opportunities and risks associated with conducting National Championship events.

No other matter or circumstance has arisen since 30 June 2020 that has significantly affected, or may significantly affect the Group's operations, the results of those operations, or the Group's state of affairs in future financial years.

Vale

Vale Norma (Croker) Fleming (11 September 1934 to 21 August 2019)

Athletics Australia acknowledged the passing on 21 August 2019 of one of this country's "Golden Girls" - its Hall of Famer and Olympic gold medallist Norma (Croker) Fleming. Norma's career was at its peak in 1956 - most particularly at the Melbourne Olympic Games where she was part of Australia's gold medal winning 4x100 metres relay team and was fourth in the individual 200 metres final. It had begun at Brisbane State High School but it was not really until the Games year that she really emerged on the national scene.

Representing Queensland at the 1956 National women's championships on the Brisbane Cricket Ground she finished fourth in the 100 yards in a blanket finish won by Wendy Hayes. Norma had won her heat in 10.8 against one of the favourites Marlene Mathews.

Norma's boyfriend Lloyd Fleming had said if she won her heat they could get engaged and Norma was therefore doubly elated with her heat win. Norma also contested the 220 yards in which she finished in the bronze medal position in 25.3 seconds. It was the beginning of a very special nine months.

In June of that year Norma ran 10.6 for the 100 yards and by October she was rounding into top form - running world class times 11.6 for 100 metres and 23.5 for 200 metres in Brisbane. She was in the right shape at the right time. The golden era of Australian women's sprinting was building to its crescendo and Norma was very much a part of it.

The Olympic selection trials were held in Melbourne a week later and Norma finished third in both the 100 and 200 metres. She was selected for both the 200 metres and 4x100 metres relay.

The Melbourne Olympics began a month later and Norma finished a comfortable second in her heat of the 200 metres in 25.10 behind Germany's 100 metres silver medallist, Christa Stubnick.

The really serious running began in the afternoon semis where Norma finished third in the first semi behind teammate Betty Cuthbert and Stubnick but inches ahead of one of the favourites - Maria Itkina of the USSR. Norma's time was 24.41. The final was held the following day and again into a headwind Norma improved to 24.22 to finish fourth closely behind third placegetter Marlene Mathews with winner Betty Cuthbert running 23.55 - three Aussie girls in the first four.

The heat and final of the 4x100 metres relay were held on the last day of athletics at the Games. Norma ran the second leg for Australia in the team with Shirley Strickland, Fleur Mellor and Betty Cuthbert. They won the first heat in 44.9 (45.00) in a new world record. In the afternoon the team broke their then own world mark with 44.5 (44.65) to win. Together they had lopped over half a second off the pre-Games world record.

Norma was the first Queenslander to win an Olympic gold medal in athletics.

Norma married Lloyd in 1957 and they had their first child in 1958 thereby missing the 1958 Commonwealth Games. However, she made a comeback and at the 1960 Women's National Championships on the North Hobart oval. Competing as Norma Fleming she finished sixth in the 100 yards in 11.1 and third in the 220 yards in 23.4. There was also a silver medal when she contested the long jump with a best of 5.99m. She was selected for her second Olympics in three events.

The Rome Olympics were not a happy hunting ground for our sprinters generally, but Norma turned out to be the best of them. She was second in her heat of the 200 metres in 24.35. The semis were held two days later but unfortunately for Norma she was drawn in the tougher of the two heats, finishing fourth in 24.44 to miss a place in the final. The winner of the second semi ran 24.69.

On the opening day of athletics in Rome, Norma qualified for the final of the long jump with 5.80m - the exact qualifying distance needed. In the final that afternoon she improved to 5.82m to finish 15th.

A week later in Cardiff in Wales, Norma jumped 6.06m for a PB. On her return she retired from athletics.

Alongside her Olympic gold, when Norma retired, she had played her part in four world records - all achieved within five days of each other in late 1956. To back up those two superb Olympic performances, the Golden Girls headed to Sydney on December 5th to attack the imperial distance world marks for 4 x 110yards and 4 x 220yards, securing both.

Norma ran the second leg on all four occasions. She was inducted into the Athletics Australia Hall of Fame in 2017 and is recognised by Queensland Athletics through an annual shield competition named in her honour.

Norma battled with cancer in recent years and passed away on 21 August 2019. A celebration of Norma's life was held at St Barnabas Anglican Church, Lister Street, Sunnybank on 30 August 2019.

Vale

Vale Maurice Stephen (Maurie) Plant (12 February 1953 – 19 January 2020)

Maurie Plant's connection with athletics was inextricable and unique. When he passed away the sport – from the school and club scene in Australia to the very top of the sport internationally - lost a key component of its engine.

There is no replacement part available.

Unlike many of his level of impact and influence might be described, Maurie was not a towering figure in the sport. For he was neither physically tall nor did he seek to impose himself in the public eye.

Although he was known to quip that – “if you stand next to the winner there's a fair chance you'll be in a photo”. And when in that regard he practised what he preached it was inevitably totally justified – in myriad instances Maurie Plant had made a positive difference to that athlete's journey to success. Stewart McSweyn will have the honour of being the last.

Long-time sports promoter, mentor and mate John Toleman says that Maurie was the outstanding schoolboy sprinter and hurdler of his day and for much of the period since. He was referring to Maurie's achievements as a teenage athlete for Xavier College in Melbourne's then thriving APS athletics competition and for Victoria in the then only underage interstate competition in the nation – the Shell East Coast Under 17 Match.

Maurie dominated his APS years in his own age group and sometimes the one above. The 200 metres record he set in 1967 was not bettered for forty years. He made the Victorian Team for the under 17 match a rare three times – at 14 he was second on the 200m hurdles, an event he then won the following year. At 16 he won the 110m hurdles. He stood on the dais every year from 1966 to 1970 at the Victorian All Schools.

Fellow Athletics Australia Life Member Gary Bourne recalled – absolutely correctly that Maurie remains the reigning Victorian junior champion for the hurdles treble with his victories at 120, 220 and 440 yards at the 1970 State Championships. The following year when the VAAA finally converted to metric Maurie was the inaugural junior champion at the 400m hurdles – leaving the 110s to his life-long mate Peter Fitzgerald. The 1976 Olympian noted that until around that time his sole goal in athletics was to beat Maurie Plant at something.

During the same period Maurie was often a training partner for Raelene Boyle during the prime of her career. A serious bout of glandular fever and the ever-increasing heights of the hurdles as time marched on towards senior ranks ended Maurie's on-track career but paved the way for an extraordinary journey off it. His known personal bests are 10.7 for 100m, 14.5 for the 110m hurdles (.91m) and 54.4 for the 400m hurdles.

He had a technical education as a draftsman but soon began working with Adidas alongside AFL legend Ted Whitten and international hurdler and later on AA president David Prince. It was through this role that Maurie developed the extraordinary knack of knowing just about everybody who needed to be known – in sport, the media and the retail trade in particular.

The chance to head to Europe and exposure to the European athletics circuit opened new doors especially through an enduring friendship with British meet promoter Andy Norman. Maurie's capacity to understand what was needed to make a meet great and what an athlete needed to do to be a great part of it grew rapidly. He quickly grasped the complex logistics of what it took to get each athlete to the starting line as well as the motivations that might lead a spectator to turn up or a television viewer to tune in.

Maurie came to know the rules and procedures for every event but always left those matters to the technical officials – the volunteers he knew were critical for a successful meet and for whom he always had massive respect. Those he would say were not of his concern – for they were "matters technical".

From assisting Andy securing athletes a start and then getting them to and from meets all over Europe, Maurie soon became an athletes' representative (the sport's term for an agent) in his own right – no better exemplified than by his work from day one with a young Darren Clark. This was a crucial moment for Australia's athletes. The country's best had often made it in some way onto the European circuit but Maurie's emergence in the role opened the floodgates for a great many others.

It was a boom time in Europe. At the height of the season there was a meet of reasonable significance on just about every day – on the more popular days two or more. But it was well before the days of mobile phones, email and online ticketing and it took special skills and connections to seize the moment – to take up a spare lane and then get an athlete on a plane and to another city for a meet at almost no notice at all.

Maurie was supreme at doing all of that. Always attuned to or ahead of the game he mastered the use of the telex machine – and was more than ready for the arrival of the groundbreaking technology of the facsimile. He was quick to conquer the use of email but his predilection for bizarre choices of font often left recipients wondering what he was actually communicating about.

Concurrently Maurie moved into meet organisation roles beyond assisting Andy. In Europe he developed career long involvements and wonderful personal relationships in particular with Wilfried Meert and Svein Arne Hansen and their teams which each year deliver the Van Damme in Brussels and the Bislett Games in Oslo respectively. And in different ways with many other meets as well.

At home in Australia Maurie took on from 1984 the acquisition of international runners for the emerging Australian Marathon in Sydney and impressive cast lists for meets such as those that were part of the America's Cup Festival of Sport in Perth in 1987.

He was the assistant mayor of the Village for the IAAF World Cup in Canberra in 1985 and instrumental in putting together an extraordinary "warm-up" meet at ES Marks Field in Sydney the weekend before. The two hour spectacle began at 9.00am because Maurie knew that would best suit the European athletes who had arrived in the previous 24 hours. The world top lists for that year were turned on their head.

Vale

Like Wilfried and Svein Arne, AA's second general manager Neil King was one of those who "got" Maurie's skills and connections – and the extent of the difference he could make for Australian athletics. A domestic season was emerging through the Mobil Grand Prix Series and the NEC Classic in Melbourne. By the time in 1993 Sydney was awarded the Olympic Games AA was ready to take full advantage.

A different set of floodgates opened. This time it was athletes from all over the world coming to Australia for training camps and a chance to compete in a vibrant and expanding domestic circuit with a meet in every state and the ACT. Maurie's influence was enormous. What he was able to deliver – often with tiny budgets compared to European Meets – was extraordinary. Australian athletes blossomed – relishing the new competition opportunities and quality international opposition – all available on their own doorstep.

Maurie then found competitions all over the world for this rapidly growing list of top level Australian athletes. During the 1990s it was not unusual for more than 100 Australians to be in Europe at the one time – accessing both one-day circuit meets and international matches that Maurie had set-up with other countries.

Maurie's own international standing was growing. He was appointed as a member of the IAAF Grand Prix Commission and as an announcer at world youth championships and IAAF grand prix finals – including his pride and joy edition in Melbourne in 2001.

His understanding of what made athletics look good on the screen and his exceptional connection with the top athletes of the world led to a long involvement with BBC Sport. His legendary spot at the entrance to the TV zone as athletes exited the arena at all the major meets must have terrified those keen to make a quick getaway – for they had no chance of making it past the very first stop.

At home Maurie had a special passion for the annual Melbourne Meet – and worked hard to ensure it remained for so long on the IAAF World Challenge Calendar. He was devastated when it was no longer. But his interest in the other meets on the Australian circuit never waned.

There were quality international athletes at all of them.

With Maurie's encouragement Australia's best turned up whenever their event was on the schedule – sometimes, even when it was not, so keen were they not to miss out on a special time in Australian athletics. He got the athletes to the meet hotels, made sure the ground transport schedule from there to the track was correct and then morphed into the role of meet announcer – usually handing over to someone else for the last event so he could take charge of the transport once again.

As recounted by many – his race and field event calling was the stuff of legend. His spooky ability to detect an exceptional performance might be in the wind was a competition director or television producer's nightmare but the usually spot-on outcome was inevitably what made a meet or a telecast so memorable – as was the volume of his call of the moment.

Maurie's penchant for making out-of-the-blue insistence on just about anything was very hard to resist. It was unwise to do so for his intuition was rarely misplaced.

His behind-the-scenes roles in ensuring the quality of the entry lists at the 2001 Goodwill Games in Brisbane and IAAF Grand Prix Final in Melbourne and the 2006 and 2018 editions of the Commonwealth Games were little known beyond the inner sanctum of each organising committee – but were vital in growing public interest in international athletics competition in Australia.

Few teams had come to Sydney for the Olympics in 2000 without Maurie Plant's hand on the training camp or pre-competition arrangements. He was always looking for opportunities for athletes from the island federations of Oceania and warmly embraced their participation in competitions in Australia.

Maurie was immensely proud of the Australian Sports Medal he received in 2000 in recognition of his service to athletics. His life membership of Athletics Australia came in 2006. He served on numerous AA committees and commissions and was assistant manager of the athletics section of 1986 Commonwealth Games Team.

For all of his considerable generosity Maurie really only expected commitment or loyalty in return. Either sufficient – both preferred. His long term loyalty to others was beyond measure. No better exemplified when with zero interest in political activity he headed north to be an integral part of Ron Clarke’s successful campaign to become mayor of the Gold Coast.

There was a wonderful life away from athletics for Maurie. After marrying Kate in 1990 they raised three sons – Ben, Toby and Rory. Their home was always open to friends and family. Maurie loved nothing more than to be stationed at the barbeque – cooking up a range of exotically marinated nibbles always followed by something more substantial. He was a fine host. He was an aficionado of many sports – and could hold court on most of them. Sports trivia was his daily bread.

Maurie had a few health battles over the past decade – most notably restricting how far and easily he could walk. He had open heart surgery in July 2019. But nothing could slow him down. He had become particularly passionate about ensuring Australia’s hosting of the 2021 World Athletics cross country championship would be a success – travelling in November to Portugal with LOC chair Brenda LaPorte to Lisbon to observe the European equivalent and working with Home Affairs on a visa strategy.

To the end he was busy mapping out the qualifying and preparation paths that the athletes he advised should take in order to make it to Tokyo in 2020 - just as he had done in the past for countless others including in more recent times Olympic champions Catherine Freeman, Steve Hooker, Valerie Adams and Sally Pearson.

Maurie contracted septicaemia soon after Christmas. He was in a coma for three weeks but did not wake before his passing. He is survived by Ben, Toby and Rory and his siblings – Commonwealth Games hurdles finalist Vin, Cecily, Michael and Elaine.

Maurie’s funeral service was held on 29 January 2020 at St Ignatius Church, Church Street, Richmond after which the athletics community, among many, attended at the Olympic Room at the Melbourne Cricket Ground for a celebration of his life and service.
